

GreenFingers Group Volunteers

Would you like to help put the green heart back into our community parks?

Our friendly and informal GreenFingers volunteer groups are a great opportunity to enjoy the outdoors, meet new people, and get involved in practical conservation in your local park.

As a GreenFingers volunteer, you'll try a variety of tasks including planting trees and bulbs, sowing wildflower seeds, maintaining community gardens, harvesting fruit and veg, and caring for wildlife ponds.

You'll learn skills, meet new people, and spend more time in nature. There's no obligation to attend every session, come along when you can. The groups are held from once a week to once a month, and are run by our welcoming team of Parks Activators.

No prior knowledge is required. Tea, coffee, and biscuits provided.

Groups are held in various locations.
